Like the perfect meal, the perfect décor is a balance of tradition and whimsy. Penny's gift is to understand how to elevate what makes us comfortable at our core. Her designs take the raw ingredients of space and preference and distill from them a cohesive but effortless visual language.

—DAPHNE OZ

Interior design is an expression. It expresses everything that is important for the owners, their most sincere values and tastes. The interior designer is the "translator," and as the translator Penny Drue Baird knows the language of textures, volumes, and colors. She knows how to express owners' specific and individual dreams through shapes, spaces, and furniture.

—PIERRE HARDY
